SIU Will Ask General Assembly For 12 New Buildings, Improvements

(This is the last of a series of three articles explaining Southern Illinois University's request for increased appropriations in 1957-59 for buildings and other capital improvements.)

With the prospect of having at least 9,000 students by 1960 in already overcrowded classrooms and dormitories, SIU will ask the Illinois legislature for 12 new buildings and funds to improve present campus facilities.

The bulk of the $39,319,000 the University will seek from the General Assembly for capital improvements in 1957-59 is for new structures to take care of enrollment growth and to replace ramshackle barracks and dilapidated frame residences in which classes are held.

Nearly $3,000,000 has been earmarked, however, for completion of buildings already started, and $1,143,000 for renovating old which have not had major overhauling for several decades.

While Southern's enrollment has been spiraling up to its present size of 6,255, much of the capital appropriations funds have had to go into emergency temporary structures. There is nearly 170,000 square feet of floor space in use in temporary quarters. The few new buildings put up in recent years don't come anywhere near meeting the need.

Meanwhile, old buildings which are landmarks on the main University campus have been deteriorating for lack of money to finance extensive repairs. Besides, older buildings have been shifted into service for purposes for which they were not intended. And adequate alterations have not been possible.

For example, the Allen Building, a former grade school for teacher training, now houses the departments of art and design; and Alford Hall, formerly a laboratory building for science classes, now holds the University Museum, the music department and general classrooms. The University, in its capital improvements budget approved by the SIU board of trustees Nov. 15, says it needs $1,365,000 for a fire alarm system, sanitary sewers, campus lighting and other health and safety factors. If the University is to expand according to plan, it must have $1,500,000 in the next two years for acquisition of land, and $391,000 for building a new access road to Highway 51 and for widening and paving Harwood Avenue. Harwood was the southern limit of University property at one time but it now cuts through the middle of the campus.

The budget request specifies $283,000 for improvements at the Vocational-Technical Institute campus east of Carbondale where full-time enrollment has grown from 36 to 564 since 1952. The number of adults in evening trades and business courses also has been increasing at a rapid rate. Plans and specifications have been drawn up for residence halls which would accommodate 675 students, but legislation may have to be passed permitting the University to use student fees to meet some of this construction cost. The students voted last year on a fee increase which will go into a Student Center Building fund.

Attempting to ease the strain on the state treasury wherever possible, some buildings which can be financed primarily out of self liquidating bonds. However, the 1957-59 budget request forecasts the need for $3,000,000 from state funds for student housing to supplement borrowed funds. Less than 12 percent of Southern's present student body can be housed in permanent campus residence halls. Also, some $550,000 of the $3,600,000 it will take to build the Student Center is requested for basic utilities extensions. "The projected needs for Southern's campus have been carefully and conservatively planned, and every effort has been made in our building program to save money for the taxpayers of Illinois," said University President D. W. Morris. "The $39,319,000 capital improvements request for the next biennium is large," Morris continued, "because we have the dual problem of catching up with the enrollment trend and trying to keep up with the critical situation that faces us in the immediate and continuing future."

The SIU president said the expansion of Southern's physical plant in the past few years is impressive in many ways, but not nearly so impressive as the upsurge in enrollment figures. The present student body of 6,255 is expected to be at the 7,000 level next year and to reach 9,000 or more by 1960.

"There has been an encouraging educational awakening in Southern Illinois that precludes greater progress and well-being for this region," Morris added. "We can only hope the people of Illinois appreciate the significance of this trend and will give us the resources to keep higher education here on a par with that of other areas."

SIU Concert Band Opens Thursday

Something new in band concerts is being offered to area music patrons Thursday when the SIU Concert Band presents its annual winter concert. The concert, free to the public, begins at 8:15 p. m. in Shroyok Auditorium.

The band, a select organization composed of 45 virtuoso musicians from the 100-piece University Symphonic Band, will unleash a program of ultra-modern music, all scored expressly for a full wind-instrument organization. And to help newcomers through the steeper harmonic passages, Dr. Henry Bruinaum, chairman of the SIU music department, will present "helpful program notes" before each composition.

Under the direction of Philip Olsson, the band will lead off with a sharply dissonant "Celebration Overture," by Paul Creston, followed by Eric Leizner's "First Swedish Rhapsody," Virgil Thompson's "A Solenne Music," and "Suite Francaise," by Darius Milhaud. Post-intermission selections will be "Suite in F for Band," by F. M. Breckers, "Diversions for Band," by Vincent Persichetti, and Serge Prokofiev's rousing "Athletic Festival March."

READY FOR BALL. Sue King has packed her bag and is preparing to lead the mascot of her party to the President's inauguration in Washington, D.

C. Sue, who received an invitation to the affair, is an ardent Democrat.

SIU Student Will Carry Banner At Inauguration

Amid an exuberant and glittering array of high Republican officials there will be one small, attractive Southern Illinois coed, secretly clutching her tarnished Stevenson button, floating slowly down Pennsylvania Avenue through the Washington inaugural crowds, next Monday.

Barbara King, an SIU sophomore from Johnston City, has received one of the most sought after invitations printed — an invitation to the President's inauguration.

"Actually, I was expecting the invitation all alone," said Miss King, her blue eyes twinkling over her work at the Student Affairs Office. "For my suit sends me one every four years. So it was no surprise, but this is the first year I have accepted."

When asked the obvious question about her political interest and affiliations Miss King smiled and hunched and fidgeted but finally admitted with an embarrassed chuckle, "I guess I'll be the only Democrat at the Ball."

There can be no mention of a Ball without a mention of clothes and formalities and things. Miss King said:

"I have a brand new formal — I don't know exactly what color you'd call it — aqua, I guess, with a lot of white lace," Miss King mentioned with that certain look women have when talking about beautiful clothes.

Miss King received her invitation through her aunt, Mrs. Fay King Inhoff, who is employed in the office which sends out invitations. This year invitations were sent out professionally in order to cut down over-crowded conditions and confusion which reigned four years ago in Washington.

"This will be my first trip to Washington," said the brunette elementary education major, "and I think the idea of the trip impresses me almost as much as the festivities once I get there."

Dunn New AFROTC Cadet Commander

Peter M. Dunn, SIU senior, has been promoted to Cadet Lt. Col. and appointed Wing Commander, highest ranking position in SIU's 1,500-man Air Force ROTC cadet wing.

Dunn's name tops a list of 12 promotions announced the winter quarter by Lt. Col. John C. Burnett, executive officer of Southern's AFROTC detachment.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Martin, Salem, Dunn was graduated from Culver Military Academy in 1953. He expects to continue pre-medical studies after his graduation from SIU in June.

Other promotions announced are: Cadet major—John Teschner; Cadet captain—George R. Chitty; James D. Hoopew, a mid-

Student Council Votes $200 For SIU Student Refugee Fund

The Student Council voted Thursday night to allow $200 to the new SIU Refugee Student Fund.

The vote followed an appeal by Fahmi Dabdash, International Relations Club president, asking that the Council sponsor a refugee student and work in cooperating with IRC on a fund-raising campaign.

Dabdash pointed out that the student would be selected on recommendation by World University Service or International Rescue Committee, from a group of Hungarian refugee students already in the United States.

If the venture is successful, Dabdash said, the student will be enrolled here spring quarter with a tuition scholarship, working on a way through and receiving stipend from the fund only as long as necessary.

Council President Sonnie Unger, Max Malone, and Jerry Feeney were selected as a committee

Romeo To Have 2 Juliets In Southern Players Drama

William Moll, a sophomore from Skilton, Mo., will have to play Romeo to a pair of alternating Juliets when the Southern Players of SIU present the time-honored Shakespearean romantic tragedy on Feb. 11.

Playing Juliet on alternate nights for the six night run will be Jane Herr, Warrensburg junior, and Louise Ritter, a Carbondale graduate student.

A radio-TV major, Moll will be playing in his third play. While a freshman here at SIU he was in "Cry, The Beloved Country," and "Twelfth Night."

Max Herr was in the touring company of the Southern Players last year, and she also played in the summer productions at Branson, Mo. The alternating Juliet, Mrs. Ritter, comes from Conway, Ark., and is a graduate from the Goodman Theatre School in Chicago.

Dr. Archibald McLeod, professor of speech, will direct the play, assisted by C. V. Bennett, Carbondale graduate student, and Jarrett Sweet, a sophomore from West Frankfort.

"Romeo and Juliet" is the third production on the Players' 1956-57 playbill. Others in the "Romeo and Juliet" cast are: Jack Baker, Easlake; David Ogden, David Brooks; Monte, C. V. Bennett; Old Man, Jim Mettle; Mercutio, Jerry Renken; Tybalt, Dick Hummel; Friar Laurence, Jerry Feeney; Friar John, Victor Cook; Bolshauer, Don Bailey; Sampson, Richard Gibson; Gregory, Linda Adams; Apothecary, Doris Drage; will alternate with Lady Montague and Lady Capulet.

Curtain time will be at 8 p. m. on each of the six nights, Feb. 11-16. Single admission will be $1 at the door. Season coupon holders may make reservations beginning Jan. 28. The box office in the Playhouse will open Feb. 4.

Line Of Dimes' Started, Lasts Until Friday

One of the few real traditions that SIU has begun yesterday, the tenth annual "Line of Dimes" started yesterday as it has for the nine previous years. As in the past the line of the little silver ten cent pieces began at the main gate of campus and it is the hope of the members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity that by 4 p. m. this Friday that the line will reach the steps of Old Main.

The "Line of Dimes" is part of the national campaign to combat infantile paralysis.

Although the goal is the same as it was when APO first held one, to collect enough dimes to reach the steps of Old Main, it will be a real challenge as it was last year. The reason being that even though the school's enrollment has increased greatly in the past years the faculty which up to last year gave the line its "Line of Dimes" now contributes to the United Fund.

Another problem which the service fraternity faces in its battle to reach its goal is the fact that since the campus has spread out not as many students pass the location of "Line of Dimes."

Senator R. G. Crenshaw of Murphysboro introduced the bill, and was permitted to move it to the second reading immediately after he promised to have a hearing on the measure in committee of the whole when it is brought up again.

Crenshaw said that $45,450 is needed for commodities to keep the school going for the rest of the year. He listed the remaining $345,550 as needed for personal services, and said that if the money is not granted, the school will have to close two months early.

Will It Happen Again?

The emergency appropriation presented to the Illinois General Assembly on the first day of the session is a graphic reminder that SIU must have the money it asks for if it is to operate the way it should.

In January, 1955, SIU asked the legislature for money to operate for two years. The amount appropriated was below the amount requested.

Now SIU must have additional money if it is to finish out the school year. According to Sen. R. G. Ottenberry, who introduced the bill for the emergency appropriation, if the needed money is not granted, the University will have to close two months early.

Things may not become that drastic, but most certainly a number of sacrifices will have to be made.

Even if the emergency funds are appropriated, only a temporary problem is solved. It still remains for the legislature to approve a budget totalling almost $6,000,000 for the next biennium.

If they fail to force the problem again this time, a similar situation as now exists may have to be coped with in 1959.

Good Idea

The International Relations Club came up with a project worthy of note.

Thursday night, the Student Council voted to give the IRC $200 for the new SIU Student Refugee Fund.

The fund will be used to sponsor a Hungarian refugee student at SIU beginning spring term if enough money can be raised.

The student will be selected from Hungarian refugees already in the United States by the World University Service or International Rescue Committee.

Such a departure from the usual student activities is deserving of mention and of praise. SIU students are moving backwards when it comes to giving help in any way.

However, most of the assistance is usually given to someone connected with the University or to someone with area affiliation.

To branch out and offer assistance to this sort of someone who has most likely never even heard of SIU is a new and welcome innovation.

The Student Council has already pledged its assistance in a fund raising drive for the Refugee Fund. Now, The Egyptian would like to offer its aid to the International Relations Club to help make this worthy project a success.

In a Prussian school for the daughters of army officers, for high born young girls, then is, in whose family affairs even Royalty is interested, the most sensitive of all the pupils sees in one of the assistant teachers a woman with beauty and tenderness she craves, that the breath of life for her in world that has become altogether an institution.

Lost and Found

From Scoop To Nuts, Student Union's Got It

Lost a cap pistol? Misplaced your bag of marbles? Look and see if you have your schedule card. Is your coat around your neck? Still have your umbrella? Both gloves? If married, see if your wedding ring is on the correct finger.

Missing, lost, and misplaced articles are cluttering up the "lost and found" table at the main desk in the Student Union. Several desk drawers are loaded, articles are filed on cards in the filing cabinet and clothing is hanging in a small cabinet.

Can you see your book while you are studying? If your book is the Art of Drama, by Miller and Bentley, it isn't there. Or it could be your glasses are not resting on your nose. But — if a trip to the Student Union doesn't solve your problem, better go see an eye doctor.

All janitorial workers bring lost items to my office, and I take them to the Student Union if they have keys.

Dames Club Discusses Ways To Keep Hubby Happy

By Gary Hays
A house just isn't a home with one, but they could all stand some improvement.
This seemed to be the general consensus of the SIU Dames Club after their discussion on how to keep "hubby" happy.

The lords and masters of some 150 households came under the scrutiny of the fairer sex last Wednesday night in the University Cafeteria as the Dames Club held their monthly meeting.

Mrs. David Palermo, wife of Dr. David Palermo of the SIU psychology department, gave a pre-discussion talk on the house hold's better half, after which she led in the group discussion.

The Dames Club members are the wives of SIU students. Mrs. Palermo was asked to come to the meeting and talk on problems that young married couples face while in college. She is well-versed in this subject since she married Dr. Palermo while he was attending the University of Iowa. They have two sons.

Palermo's Are Avg. Couple
Mrs. Palermo considers that she and Dave, as she calls him, are an average couple.
"I don't mean that we have lived a life of uninterrupted bliss," she said, "cause sometimes 1210 W. College is like rocks on its axis."

Mrs. Palermo was dressed in a brown hosiery suit with three quarter length sleeves.
The Root Of All Evil SUII
Speaking with a pleasant voice and showing obvious satisfaction over being able to "cheer" the opposite sex with good advice, Mrs. Palermo said that the thing that causes the most trouble in the lives of college couples is finance.

"Although in most cases," she continued, "everyone is in the same boat and there is no pressure to keep up with the Joneses."
In speaking of her and Dave's own financial problems while in school, she added, signifying helplessness with an uplifting of both hands, that they worked out a pretty good budget by the end of the third year.

In discussing recreation needed, Mrs. Palermo said that she considered it a "must" in order to keep sane. She cited four things.

After her graduation from the Goodman Theater School, Mrs. Ritter returned to Conway and attended the Arkansas State Teachers College there at Conway, Fayetteville. She received her teaching certificate enabling her to teach in the Arkansas high schools.

"I went to Bald Knob, Ark., and taught high school there for five years," Mrs. Ritter said. "and I also directed all of the Junior and senior plays there at the high school."

"I have two children, Rebecca who is eight years old, and Richard is five, and they attend the Brush Grade School here in Carbondale," said the slightly red-headed Mrs. Ritter.

When asked how old she is, Mrs. Ritter leaned back in her chair and grinned a large and gentle Southern smile and quickly said: "Why 'am just 27 years old!"

"I came to SIU to get my master's in speech correction, and I am also teaching speech 101," said Mrs. Ritter as she propped her feet on the draws of her desk.

With her full skirt spread out over her chair Mrs. Ritter said with a smile, "I like Shakespeare and the Greek tragedies."

What About Noses & Books?
Another question from the floor: "What do you do when your husband has his nose stuck in a book and won't talk?"
One of the reasonable suggestions made was to try to sit aside at least one night in the week when husband and wife can enjoy some form of entertainment together.

Miss Palermo wound up the evening's discussion by saying that the financial strain and excessive work put on the college couple made all their problems seem larger.

"Help the old boy along in his weaker moments," she said, "and just remember, it is only temporary."

'I Was A Bum' Convocation Speaker Tells About Childhood

By Warren Talley
"When I was a kid, they just called me 'bums,'" said Mrs. Billie Davis, dressed smartly in a black suit adorned with a red flower, spoke these words last Thursday at the freshman convocation program.

Fast history of the compulsory assemblies has provided many a speaker with large, but empty, and cool audiences. Last Thursday's assembly was no exception, inasmuch as the attendance was large and captive, but the inspirational and given by Mrs. Davis brought forth something but a cool reception.

"When she's through," said C. Horton Talley, Dean of Commencement, as he introduced the speaker, "I'm sure you'll appreciate the fact that you live in America, and are students of SIU."

Prin. Deyte W. Morris and Melvin C. Lockard, Secretary of the Board of Trustees from Mattoon, Ill., also accompanied Mrs. Davis on the Shoyack Auditorium stage.

When I was a child, we moved from one place to another, smiling to be able to eat," said Mrs. Davis. "Nowadays our society uses a rather drastic terminology and calls these people migrant workers or nonmoving temporary domestics."

Business Ed Teaching Staff Is Short
The Business Education Department announces that its teaching staff has been affected considerably by the departure of several of its faculty members prior to the resumption of the Winter Quarter.

Dr. Chester Phillips, retired visiting professor, left to join the business staff at the University of Illinois; Dr. Milton Edelman, instructor in Economics, is on leave this term, serving on the Staff of John Hopkins University at the School of Advanced International Studies in Bologna, Italy; and Mr. Van Buzolt left in order to work on his Ph. D. at Iowa State University.

Several new faces appear now in the department to supplement the demand created by unanticipated departures. One new faculty member is Dr. Myroslav Joseph Melnik, a graduate of the University of Louvain in Belgium. He also spent a year at Harvard studying law.

English and other necessary courses for teaching in the United States.
The staff is also strengthened by the help of two of the faculty members' wives. They are Mrs. Lane Wilkerson and Mrs. Woodson Fishback. Both of the women have had considerable teaching background in basic business courses such as typewriting and accounting.

She Told the audience of her childhood experiences, especially her first day at school, when dressed in rags, she mingled with the "clean, smooth children."
We Pass By Opportunity
"The things that bother me now," said Mrs. Davis, "are the people who walk past churches, free museums, libraries, and schools every day, and then bewail that they just don't have the opportunity."

"Education is the greatest function of mankind, and if it is properly appreciated, it can change the destiny of the world."

"I've never told my story as a sad story," she continued, "because it was an experience I appreciated school and I learned from school . . . because it was quite different from peddling baskets on a dark street in a strange town."

In finishing her remarks toward America's educational system, Mrs. Davis had this to say.
"The social aspects are very important for kids in school. They are important for life adjustment and must travel hand in hand with reading, writing, and arithmetic."

"Education is life . . . not separated from life, and I've had the opportunity to see how much it is really worth."

Saukus Beat Beloit, Northern Illinois

Coch Lyn Holder's Saukus used a pressing defense to build a commanding lead, then relied on free throws in the second half to maintain it, as they stretched their victory streak to three at the expense of the Northern Huskies at the SIU gym Saturday night.

It was the fifth win in the last six games for the improving Saukus, and brought their season's record to a respectable eight won, four lost.

Northern had just scored 98 points Friday night while beating Eastern Illinois, but the Huskies couldn't find the ring Saturday night as they shot a chilly .250 from the floor.

Southern, after its fine effort against Beloit two nights before, didn't fare much better as they hit .294.

It was free throws that brought the Saukus in ahead, as they dumped in 21 of 32, while Northern was hitting only 16 of 31. In field goals, SIU made 20, Northern 19.

Southern at one point during the second half held a 22-point lead but the Huskies kept whittling away and were within seven points when the game ended.

Near the end, John Olson, ever over 20 points a game for the Huskies, hit four straight jump shots to pull Northern within striking distance. He scored 14 points against the Saukus.

Two of his points came when Southern's Seymour Bryson was called for "goaltending" on one of Olson's long jump shots. Bryson deflected the ball on its downward flight toward the basket, and Olson was awarded the goal.

Northern's Ralph Baote, a smooth guard, took scoring honors for the game, dunking in 22 points. He was followed by Olson and Bryson with 14 apiece.

Again the Saukus exhibited a well-balanced scoring attack, as they split the points in the double figures. Bryson's 14 was high, followed by Richard Jones with 12, Gordon Lambert with 11, and Larry Whitlock with 10.

Warren Talley, the other starter, fouled out six minutes after the second half started, and had been sitting on the bench part of the first half with four fouls against him. He scored six points. Bob Welch hit four field goals, three of them long jump shots from the corner.

Southern will hit the road next weekend, playing Illinois Normal Friday night and Western Illinois Saturday night.

The next home game will be Monday, Jan. 26, against Milliken University.

First Loss In 2 Years:

Tankmen Edge Bears, 44-41

Southern's swimming team handed Washington University's tankmen their first loss in two and one-half years Saturday and ran their own record to 2-0 when they nipped the Bears, 44-41.

Every member of Washington's 10-men squad scored points, but it was not enough to offset Southern's improved scoring.

Bob Montgomery of the Saukus and Ben Gerber each won two events.

Montgomery captured the 200 and 400-yard freestyle, and Gerber took the 50 and 100-yard freestyle and swam a leg on the 400-yard relay team.

In winning the 400-yard medley relay in 4:19.8, Washington set a meet record, as it was a new event.

400-YARD MEDLEY RELAY Washington (Smith, Murdoch, Fenlon, Kiddle). Time—4:19.8.

Intramurals

By Marshall Riggan
The intramural spotlight was a again focused on basketball last week.

The Army, SIU and University School Come rang with basketball activity last Tuesday and Wednesday night as 26 games were played.

The week's play featured two close and exciting contests and several outstanding individual scorers.

In one of the more exciting games of the week, the U. D. Gunners slipped by the Lamplighters, 36-35, when Monschein poured in over half of the U. D. point total with 19 markers. Alpha Green was high for the losers with 15 points.

Dale Cozad led Theta Xi past TKE in a 45-43 thriller. Marie scored 13 for TKE, in the other of the week's two most exciting games.

McDevitt Takes Honors
Thomas McDevitt took the weeks' scoring honors with a high of 28 points. He led the undefeated Bungalows five to a romp over Brown Jug last Monday.

Other high scorers who scored 20 or more points last week included: Oldham, Sheiks, 26; Gelch, Bavarians, 20; Rush, Sigma Phi Epsilon, 24; Branch, Alpha, 22; Ward, Arnold Air Society, 27; Bostik, Pivoters, 24; Sanders, Wesley Foundation, 22; and Noren, Thompson Point Bar, 23.

Other games played last week were:

Tues Jan. 8
Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Alpha Phi Alpha 60-50, with R. Bush scoring 24 points for the winners and Branch dropping 22 for Alpha Phi Alpha.

Sigma Psi "A" handed Delta Chi a 50-34 loss. On Newell was high for Sig Psi with 16 points.

The Pivoters outscored Arnold Air Society 68-58 in a game where Ward scored 27 points for the Pivoters and Bostik tallied 24 for the losing cause.

David Sanders led Wesley Foundation as they drubbed the Sheiks 67-25.

The City City Giants defeated Flax-broke Hotel 35-30. Jones led the winning attack with 14 points.

Dovle Dorn "A" defeated U. D. Gunners 42-37; Brown Jug outpointed Dovle Dorn "B" 37-25; and Bungalows defeated the Manos 51-45.

Wed. Jan. 9
Wednesday night, the Fifty-Five outpointed the Court View Lakers in a low scoring 31-25 contest. Ken Spencer, with 12 points, was high for the winners.

Bob Donarsky led the Sigma Psi team to an easy victory over "B" Tau "B". The final score stood 32-23.

In another low scoring contest, the Coch Lyn Holder's Saukus, led by the ball-handling and free throw shooting of Richard "Icky" Jones, rallied strongly in the second half last Thursday night to post a 69-62 win over Dolph Stanley's Beloit College cage team.

Trailing seven points at half-time, Southern pulled together in the second half for a fine team performance and its seventh win of the season.

With three minutes remaining, SIU leading 62-60, the Saukus from the half, Jones drove with his dribbling and stalling tactics as he drew three fouls from Ken Monson, Buccaneer reserve, and made five of six charity tosses.

Illustrating the team effort of the Saukus was the fact that all five starters scored in the double figures. Jones paced the attack with 17 points. He was followed by Warren Talley and Larry Whitlock with 14 apiece, Gordon Lambert with 12, and Seymour Bryson with 10.

With 15 minutes remaining in the game and the Saukus down 52-44, Beloit went into a spread which proved to be the downfall.

Beloit lost the ball three straight times during the deep freeze, and SIU turned their mistakes into eight points to tie the Buccaneers 52-52 on Whitlock's jump shot from the corner with 11:50 remaining.

It was nip and tuck for the next eight minutes as each team traded buckets. Then Robert Welch in for Bryson when he fouled out, hit the basket on his fourth try to tie the game at 60-60.

The next time SIU got the ball, Welch shot again and missed, with Whitlock clearing the rebound and jumping high for a two-point shot and lead the Saukus never relinquished.

The Saukus also displayed their best rebounding effort of the season as Bryson, Talley, Lambert and Whitlock all collected from eight to 13 rebounds.

Hays' Pin Edges Sailors

Big Ed Hayes came through with a pin in the final match Saturday to break a 14-14 tie with Grease Lakes and give the Saukus their second win over the sailors, 19-14.

The match score was almost identical with the Grease Lakes, 18-15.

With the score tied 14-14, Hayes pinned his opponent to take the heavyweight division and win the match.

Extension Program Offers 55 Courses

The Division of University Extension has 55 courses, with 25 of them being on the graduate level set up for this term. The classes are held at night and the credit may be used to meet graduation requirements or toward the master's degree.

These classes cover the state from Alton on the north to Cairo on the south and many towns in between. This creates a problem for the professors who are teaching the classes. Some of them have to drive a 250 mile round trip.

Juan Pizarro completed 27 of 31 starts for Jacksonville, Fla., in the Class A Sally League in 1956. He had a 23-6 record for his first organized baseball campaign.
